WILLIAM COOPER: According to an article in the Crowley Ridge Chronicle by T.O. Fitzpatrick, early county historian, dated April 16, 1936 he received a copy of a death notice that had appeared in the Arkansas Gazette July 14, 1830 from Mrs. Clara B. Eno. She, at that time, was a member of the Arkansas History Commission.

The article stated that Rev. William Cooper had died June 25, 1830 age 74 in St. Francis County, Arkansas Territory. He was one of the heroes of the American Revolution and a minister of the gospel.

She wanted to know if he knew where he was buried. He did some research in Washington D.C. and found that William Cooper had owned land where the present town of Cherry Valley is located and determined that he was buried in Tyer Cemetery.

JAMES H. HYDRICK: From "Old Big Grandma and Her Hydrick Family" by Odessa Hydrick of Sikeston, MO

- "Pa's (G.W. Hydrick, her father) wish was that he be buried in the Tyer Cemetery at Hydrick by the side of his father's grave.

None of the family objected although there was the Hydrick family plot in Vanndale. So his wish was granted. The Woodmen of the World stone at the head of his grave stands next to the Confederate stone of Grandfather James.

AJAX TYER: Mr. Tyer is listed as head of household on the 1830 census of St. Francis County, Arkansas Territory. His first wife was Rebecca Hydrick, who died sometime between 1846 and 1850.

The 1850 census listed his Ajax Tyer's wife as Malinda. His children according to the 1850 and 1860 censuses were: William W., Frances, Mary S., Joseph W., Rebecca E., Samuel A., Silas, Harriet and Mary.

Ajax Tyer died December 22, 1868 at the age of 62 and is buried in the Tyer Cemetery.

WRIGHT TYER: According to T.O. Fitzpatrick there was a cemetery located just west of Levesque, Arkansas that contained about 100 graves.

He said some of the earliest settlers of Cross County are buried there.

It is not known the exact location of that cemetery.

Some buried there:

SAMUEL TYER, a brother of Ajax Tyer, was born in 1812. He married Nancy Newton of Tennessee in 1838.

They lived three miles north of Wynne, AR. He died in 1891. It is not known where he and his wife are buried.
